- Copy must be print-ready: 300dpi jpgs or PDFs at the correct size
- Copy not print-ready may incur an additional charge of up to £50, depending on the amount of work involved and at the discretion of the DN editors
- The design should have good contrast, not be too subtle nor have large black areas
- DN does not endorse or recommend any of the advertising organisations
- Letters inviting annual advertisements are sent out in autumn with space allotted on a first-come, first-served basis
- New advertisers expressing interest at other times are added to the list of those receiving the autumn invitation letter
- Three months' notice is required for withdrawal of an annual advert
